

Beloved in Christ,

As we gather to celebrate this Resurrection Sunday, let us embrace the transformative power of Jesus' resurrection. It is a time of renewal, a season to reawaken the Christed consciousness within us, guided by the Logos, and to partake in the ritual of renewal that the resurrection symbolizes. This sacred process, demonstrated by Jesus, invites us into a deep communion with the Father, empowering us to transcend the illusions of this world and to manifest the light of His love in every step of our journey.

Matthew 28:6 says, 'He is not here; for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.' Let this promise inspire us to live in the way of Jesus, embodying His teachings of discipleship, community, and peacemaking. May we, like the disciples who witnessed the resurrected Christ, find faith not in seeing but in believing and in following the footsteps of our Lord, embracing the sacrifices made for the sake of love, and rejoicing in the new life that resurrection brings to us all.

In this season of Easter, let us reflect on the sacrifices we've made and look forward with hope to the renewal of our faith and commitment. May the love that conquered the grave fill our hearts and guide us in our daily walk with Christ.

Wishing you a blessed and transformative Resurrection Sunday.

In Peace and Love,
Andrii Zvorygin and Family.

Dawn of Renewal

Andrii Zvorygin yN-PH2196 mtH2a1a* & GPT4
attender of Glad Tidings Fellowship, Tara, ON

March 31, 2024

From darkness to light, from death to life – let the story of the Resurrection inspire us to walk anew in the path of unwavering faith and boundless love.

Beloved in Christ,

As we gather to celebrate this Resurrection Sunday, let us embrace the transformative power of Jesus' resurrection. It is a time of renewal, a season to reawaken the Christed consciousness within us, guided by the Logos, and to partake in the ritual of renewal that the resurrection symbolizes. This sacred process, demonstrated by Jesus, invites us into a deep communion with the Father, empowering us to transcend the illusions of this world and to manifest the light of His love in every step of our journey.

Matthew 28:6 says, 'He is not here; for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.' Let this promise inspire us to live in the way of Jesus, embodying His teachings of discipleship, community, and peacemaking. May we, like the disciples who witnessed the resurrected Christ, find faith not in seeing but in believing and in following the footsteps of our Lord, embracing the sacrifices made for the sake of love, and rejoicing in the new life that resurrection brings to us all.

In this season of Easter, let us reflect on the sacrifices we've made and look forward with hope to the renewal of our faith and commitment. May the love that conquered the grave fill our hearts and guide us in our daily walk with Christ.

Wishing you a blessed and transformative Resurrection Sunday.

In Peace and Love,
Andrii Zvorygin and Family.

Dawn of Renewal

Andrii Zvorygin yN-PH2196 mtH2a1a* & GPT4
attender of Glad Tidings Fellowship, Tara, ON

March 31, 2024

From darkness to light, from death to life – let the story of the Resurrection inspire us to walk anew in the path of unwavering faith and boundless love.